What type of is that?

Cirrus – detached, wis	spy clouds (high)
If scattered, it can mean good weather; if they are dense, it means the weather will be humid
Cirrostratus – a transp	parent sheet of cloud, sometimes causes a ha	alo around the sun or moon (high)
Shows rain or snow w	ill come soon, in 12 – 24 hours
Cirrocumulus – a pato	h or layer of cloud, sometimes look like ripp	les (high)
Fair weather is approa	ching
Altocumulus – a patch	or sheet of cloud, mackerel sky (medium)
Rain within 36 hours, or if seen on a humid morning, could mean thunderstorms
Altostratus – a grey, q	uite thick sheet of cloud (medium)
Storms, rain or snow o	ould come soon
Nimbostratus – thick	grey sheet of raincloud (medium)
Rain or snow
Cumulus - detatched,	puffy, quite dense typicial clouds (low)
Fair weather
Stratus – a grey cloud	layer which can produce rain (low)
Mist, drizzle or light sr	now
Stratocumulus – patcl	n, sheet, or layer of cloud, grey or whitish (lo	ow)
If the sky is full of thes	e clouds, can mean dry weather, but they car	n also bring light rain
Cumulonimbus – hugo	e, dense cloud tower (tall, vertical)
Can mean thunderst	orms or wind, sometimes extreme weath	er
Cloud type you saw	How do you know it's this type?	What do you think this means ?				